

MANITOBA POOL MEMBERS MAY BE RELEASED

Members of the Manitoba wheat pool are to be given the right to decide whether they will go back to the open market system of selling or of pooling their grain through the pool. It has been announced. During the last week of May the contract-signers will vote as to whether they wish to be accorded the option of the open market after June 1.

Under the plan proposed by the directors all grain not pooled would be sold through the Manitoba Pool elevators Ltd. on the open market. This would involve the pool hedging straight purchases by protective sales on the futures market, a move never before countenanced by the pool. The proposals are to be discussed at special meetings of the 94 pool locals in Manitoba during the last week in May.

The Manitoba pool is acting alone in the offer put forward to their membership, as the Alberta and Saskatchewan pools are not making any similar offer, according to official statements. Officials point out that the Manitoba offer may be partly due to the fact that the pool is handling the coarse grains, which have not been marketed by the Alberta pool since the drop in prices.

The directors' proposals are as follows:

1. The pooling of grain to be placed on a purely voluntary basis.
 2. All grain not pooled to be sold through Manitoba Pool Elevators Ltd. on the open market.
 3. That the proposed changes be submitted to the 94 pool locals at meetings which will be held in the last week of May, in order that every member may have an opportunity to become acquainted with them.
- That the plan come into force on June 1st.

Conversion Loan

Official announcement is made today of the terms of the Dominion of Canada 1931 Conversion Loan. This issue extends the opportunity to holders of Dominion of Canada War Loan and Victory Loan Bonds now approaching maturity to convert their holdings into bonds extending over a further period of from 15 to 25 years, and marks what may eventually prove to be the greatest financial operation in the history of Canada the refunding of the heavy volume of financial obligations incurred during the War period.

The offer does not involve the raising of any new money. Not a penny will be added to the national debt of Canada in consequence of the 1931 Conversion Loan. It is entirely a matter of exchanging existing bonds for other bonds of the Dominion. A total of more than one billion dollars of bonds reaches maturity within the next 3½ years. This total is made up of about $52,900,000 War Loan 5 per cent Bonds due October 1, 1931; $73,300,000

CARBON TENNIS CLUB PLANS MONSTER DANCE

The posters are out announcing the opening dance of the season, under the auspices of the Carbon Tennis club. This dance will be held on Friday, evening, May 29th, and promises to be a gala affair. A local orchestra has been formed and they will furnish the music for this occasion.

The Tennis Club dances have long been noted for their popularity and the committee in charge have stated that this dance will be far superior to any they have put on in the past.

If you want a good time, plan to attend the Tennis Club Dance on May 29th.

Golf Postponed

The terrible dust storm on Sunday prevented the first games in the Herald playoffs from being played. Irricana Golf Club was to visit Carbon on this occasion but the convenor for the district called off the play Sunday morning. A number of the Irricana players did not know that this game was called off and duly arrived with the dust. They agreed to the postponement of the playoffs at Carbon to a Wednesday afternoon.

Renewal Loan 5½ per cent Bonds due November 1, 1932; $446,000,000 Victory Loan 5½ per cent Bonds due November 1, 1933; and $512,000,000 Victory Loan 5½ per cent Bonds due November 1, 1934.

Holders of bonds of these issues are being given the opportunity of continuing their investment over a longer term in the direct obligations of the Dominion Government. They will not lose anything in the way of interest payments or income tax exemption by exchanging for bonds of the 1931 Conversion Loan. It is explained that the new bonds will carry coupons entitling holders to receive up to the date of the maturity of their old bonds, the same interest payments and tax free privileges as they would enjoy if they held their War Loan or Victory Bonds until the actual date of maturity in each case. For the remainder of the term of the 1931 Conversion Loan bonds, they will carry interest at the rate of 4½ per cent per annum, which, in the opinion of leading investment bankers, is a comparatively generous return in view of the interest rates now prevailing in the London and the New York markets.

This issue of bonds of the 1931 Conversion Loan is authorized by Act of Parliament, which provides that both principal and interest on all of the bonds is to be a charge on the consolidated revenue fund of Canada.

Principal and interest on the new bonds will be payable without charge in lawful money of Canada at the office of the Minister of Finance and Receiver General at Halifax, St. John, Charlottetown, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, or Victoria. Interest coupons will be payable without charge as they fall due at any branch in Canada of any of the Chartered Banks.

SEEDING COMPLETED; RAIN BADLY NEEDED HERE

Wheat seeding in the Carbon district has been completed and much of the coarse grain seed is in the ground. Some fields are coming up green and others show patches where the seed has not yet germinated. The high wind on Sunday did some damage to growing crops, although the little moisture on Monday laid the dust. The district is still badly in need of a good rain. All day Monday the sky was overcast with heavy clouds, but the winds were on the job and every time a little moisture fell a gust of wind would come along and help the clouds on their way.

Depression End Near; from Silver

OTTAWA, May 20.—Canada Friday was invited to embark on a great adventure in world finance which, almost at a stroke, would wipe out world depression and restore the purchasing power of countless millions of people in Asiatic and South American countries. The proposal is brief is to restore the value of silver as money and stabilize it at one-twentieth of the value of gold.

The proposal was advanced by J.F. Darling of London, England, director of the Midland Bank, and world-famed authority on silver. On the invitation of Premier R.B. Bennett he addressed the banking and commerce committee of the House of Commons Friday.

Scouting the proposed international conference on the silver question as a cumbersome and lengthy procedure, which could arrive at no decision until "after the ship had foundered" Mr. Darling proposed a more direct method with the British Empire leading the world and Canada leading the British Empire.

Briefly the scheme involved the establishing of a "Super-Bank of Empire" which would take over all the gold and silver in the British Empire and use a new monetary unit which would be called the "Rex." This unit however, would be merely a book-keeping device and would not be issued as a medium of exchange.

The bank would maintain equilibrium between the two great money metals of the world, gold and silver. The value of silver would be fixed at one-twentieth the value of gold. Due to the debasement of the value of silver in recent years, he claimed purchases by the countries of Asia and of Central and South America which used silver largely as currency, had been greatly debased.

The forthcoming Imperial Conference at Ottawa would be an excellent opportunity to launch the scheme, Mr. Darling said, and he could think of no man better capable of giving leadership in the movement than Premier Bennett.

If the British Empire started the movement, Mr. Darling was sure the United States, the other great world financial power, would join in as well as other countries, because it would work to the benefit of the world as a whole.

While he would not offer a definite prediction, the extinguished banker said he thought the scheme would raise prices. This was essential, he said, as it was impossible to maintain present wage levels or to liquidate international debts on the present price level. There might be a danger of raising prices too high but it was as nothing to the risk of drifting along in the present "terrible morass."

EDITORIAL

On Tuesday a representative of a well-known Eastern printing firm, S. B. Beare and Company, visited Carbon and called on some of the business men for their printing. We understand that some of our loyal business men explained that there was a local printer in town and did their work. This, however, did not satisfy the "Beare" Salesman and he claimed that the local printer could not do certain kinds of work, and mentioned that if he did, he used waxed plates. If this man claims to be a printing salesman with a knowledge of printing he ought to be in China to sell his product. The Western printers are printers and not waxed paper artists, and Western printers tell you the truth and do not use "waxed paper" salesmanship. As far as we know there isn't a printing shop in Alberta that can't handle practically every kind of job printing and as far as The Chronicle is concerned there isn't any kind of printing that we can't handle up to a size of 18x24 inches. Mr. Business man, please remember this.

As far as the S.B. Beare and Company salesman is concerned if he ever puts his nose into Carbon again it won't be with the gross untruth on his lips that the local printer can't do the work. We don't mind fair opposition, but when it comes to low-down tricks of misrepresenting a local firm's ability to do the work, it is time to take the matter in hand.

CUT YOURSELF A PIECE OF GLASS

Some time when you have a good heavy pair of shears and a piece of sheet glass, try this experiment. Put enough water in a dish pan or wash tub so that you can have your glass, shears and hands completely immersed. Then by holding the glass firmly in the left hand you can take the shears in the right and cut the glass in a straight line. This makes an interesting little trick, and may be done with a small piece of glass in a small dish of water.—Ex.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MAY 24

JESUS PREPARING FOR THE END

Golden Text: "This do in remembrance of Me."—Luke 22:19.

Lesson: Luke 21:1 to 22:23.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 53:1-6.

Explanations and Comments

The Preparation For Keeping the Passover, 22:7-13.—While the city of Jerusalem was making ready to celebrate the Passover Supper, the day of unleavened bread, and the chief priests and elders were planning how they might put Jesus to death, Jesus bade two of His disciples, Peter and John, make preparations for their keeping of the feast. "Where?" they asked Him, and Jesus directed them to enter Jerusalem, and when they met a man bearing a pitcher of water to follow him. Water was carried by women in jars upon their heads, and a man doing this work would be a solitary and unusual figure. To the owner of the house to which the man would lead them, Jesus bade them say, that the Master asked where was the guest chamber in which He should eat the Passover with His disciples. The owner would show them a large upper room where they were to make ready for the Passover. The disciples followed His directions.

The Prelude To The Lord's Supper, 22:14-18.—When the hour was come (when evening was come, Matthew), Jesus sat down (reclined on a couch) with His disciples to partake of the Paschal Supper. "With desire have I desired [intensely have I longed] to eat this Passover with you before I suffer." Why? For His own sake. There was comfort for His own heart that He should be able to manifest His love. With tender, solemn thought He had looked forward to it, and He desired the support of their fellowship for what lay before Him. For their sake also. The final act of suffering would be a great trial to the disciples. They were to know something of the sorrow of desolation, and Christ was eager to prepare them for the dark future. If they were assured of His deathless love they would find comfort when the shock of His death came. They could look back on this feast and on these words, and gather strength to suffer and to wait. And so it is for us also who are His disciples. Our feast of love not only represents the desire of the Lord to give Himself, but represents the joy of the gift to us.

The Institution Of The Lord's Supper, 22:19, 20.—And He took bread, and when He had given thanks, He brake it. It was unleavened bread, especially prepared for the Paschal meal. Because He broke off the pieces of bread (which was in the form of hard, flat, round cakes and was always broken, never cut), the ordinance is called the "Breaking of Bread." From the Greek word for thanks, "eucharistias," comes our word "Eucharist." And Jesus said, "This is my body which is given for you." And as Jesus took the cup, He said, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood, even that which is poured out for you."

The Startling Announcement, 22:21-23.—It was a startling statement that Jesus made when He said, "But behold, the hand of him that betrayeth Me is with Me on the table." "It was the dropping of a Lyddite shell into their midst, destroying the whole atmosphere of peace.—Dean Brown. "For the Son of Man indeed goeth, as it hath been determined," continued Jesus: "But woe unto that man through whom He is betrayed!"

Industrial Manitoba

Industry Gradually Taking Priority Over Agriculture In the Province

Bearing upon the recent statement of J. M. Davidson, of the Industrial Development Board of Manitoba, that industry is gradually taking priority over agriculture in the province, it is pointed out that Manitoba is rich in natural resources, having more than $600,000,000 in ore reserves, 137,000 square miles of timber, and 20,000 square miles of water surface. The province is also extremely rich in metallic and non-metallic minerals. With an annual production of more than $165,000,000, moreover, Manitoba's 130 industrial plants have a yearly pay-roll of $35,000,000.

Canada and Newsprint Production

More Newsprint Made In Canada Than Any Other Country

More newsprint paper is made in Canada than in any other country. In 1930, Canada manufactured 2,504,000 tons, 36 per cent. of the world production of newsprint paper. The tonnage was practically double that turned out in the United States, which was the nearest competitor to the Canadian mills with an output of 18 per cent. of the world total. Great Britain and Germany each manufactured about nine per cent. and Newfoundland and Japan four per cent. each. These six countries accounted for about four-fifths of the world supply of newsprint which totalled 6,975,000 tons last year.

Though Canada's production totalled 36 per cent. of the aggregate for the upwards of 20 countries producing newsprint, her proportion of the export market was even larger.

DRAPERIES MADE NEW

"When we resumed housekeeping a month ago I found my draperies had become creased from packing. I hung them out on the line, hoping to remove the creases. Then I forgot them. The result was they became badly faded and sun-spotted."

"I was heart sick until the happy thought struck me to dye them. I just dyed them a deeper green, and as I used Diamond Dyes they look gorgeous and new. I have never seen easier dyes to use than Diamond Dyes. They give the most beautiful colors—when used either for tinting or dyeing—and never take the life out of cloth as other dyes do."

Divorce By Legislation

The ninth application for divorce in the last 50 years was recently before the legislative council of the Isle of Man. As the island has no divorce law, a special bill must be passed for each case. After the council has passed the bill, it must be passed by the House of Keys, sent to London for royal assent and finally promulgated from the open-air Tynward Court.

Unearth Ancient Treasures

Valuable Discoveries Made In Kish By Oxford-Field Museum Expedition

Jewelry worn at the Court of Nebuchadnezzar, magnificent sculpture of the Sassanian period and royal tombs over 5,500 years old have been discovered by the Oxford-Field Museum Expedition excavating at Kish, near the site of old Babylon. Dr. Stephen Langdon, Professor of Assyriology, Oxford University, director of the expedition, has sent a report to Sir Charles Marston, author of Essays on the Old Testament, who states that the jewelry is said to be worth several thousands of pounds.

The expedition is working on three separate strata covering three periods of history. Sassanian sculpture, dating from about 250 A.D., was found on the top layer above the great Temple of Nebuchadnezzar. The find of treasure from the Nebuchadnezzar period is sensational and includes solid gold ornaments.

"It will be of great interest to know just what has been found because the time of Nebuchadnezzar is one about which we are learning a great deal from recent discoveries, and excavation is supporting the old Biblical narrative to an extraordinary extent," Sir Charles says.

Below the Nebuchadnezzar Temple have been found a further series of Sumerian royal tombs. These are about 5,500 years old and the expedition is just beginning to explore them. Written tablets and cuneiform writings have been recovered which will probably shed light on the history of those times. Sir Charles adds: "It is especially interesting to know that the date of the floods has now been fixed at 3,400 B.C., so that these tablets are probably older still."

For Scalds Or Burns.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is a standard remedy for the prompt treatment of scalds and burns. Its healing power quickly soothes the pain and aids a speedy recovery from the injury. It is also an excellent remedy for all manner of cuts, bruises and sprains, as well as for relieving the pains arising from inflammation of various kinds. A bottle in the house and stable saves many a doctor's and veterinary's fee.

Canadian Bond Sales

Canadian bond sales for the year to date amount to $211,193,386, as compared with $191,969,321 for the corresponding period of last year, and $140,814,686 for that of the year before. Purchases by Canadian financial houses made up a total of $147,306,386, while American firms bought to the extent of $59,787,000 and British, $4,100,000.

More than 21,000,000 acres in Argentina were planted to wheat last season.

Wool Receiving Warehouses To Be Opened At Portage la Prairie and Regina

The Canadian Co-Operative Wool Growers have completed arrangements for wool receiving warehouses at Regina, Sask., and Portage la Prairie, Man., to receive shipments of wool from June 1 to August 31. A letter has been sent to the wool producers requesting that they forward their shipments to arrive at the warehouses between these dates. Reports show that the volume of wool handled in the past year was 1,038,205 pounds more than the objective for the year, which was 4,000,000 pounds.

"I rather think we are! But you see, a family usually has a daddy, and a mother, and more little children. Sonny, and Nick, and their father and mother are a family, so—so you see, you couldn't have Mrs. Hastings for your mother. Do you understand?"

"Not—zactly. Who—who can I have? Could it be Julie?"

Halliday stifled an impulsive smile, and answered: "I'm afraid not; but—" He seemed to hesitate; then said: "Martha, do you remember a lady who used to live here—a very pretty lady, in a blue gown?"

The child looked up, her eyes suddenly wide with distrust.

"She hurt my kitty. She hurt him so hard he runned away."

Halliday drew a deep breath. He had hoped the child had forgotten.

"She will never hurt your kitty again, dear. Would—would she possibly do for a—mother, little girl?"

"No," said Martha. She slid off Halliday's knee as if this monstrous proposition had put something intangible between them. "No," she said again, looking up soberly, "she isn't a mother. She won't do."

Tears smarted behind Halliday's lids. It was all so pitifully true! Then, meeting his eyes, the child's innocent heart surmised that he was hurt, and she flung herself upon him, clasping his neck in a passion of overwhelming love.

"It doesn't matter—much," she comforted. "It doesn't matter hardly any. I've got you, Daddy."

"Yes," said Halliday huskily, and smiled. "There's not the least doubt in the world that you've got me!"

And next day he went to Boston to see his lawyer.

CHAPTER XVIII.

It was on a day some five weeks later that Nick came back from a morning spent in the office of a native lawyer, and with a sigh of relief dropped into a chair on the hotel veranda. The lawyer had proved slow, and plodding, and exact, to a degree that had made the impatient New Englander long to take him by the collar and shake him up; and the day was hot.

Nick threw down his panama hat, and mopped his forehead, thankful for the fact that though the tropic sun is hot, the shade is cool. And another week ought to finish up the business. As he sat there looking out on the grove of palms that had become familiar in the past weeks, he felt torn between a desire to take the first boat home, and a longing to claim his vacation now, and see more of the island and its people.

Gay had urged him to stay as long as he could be spared; and only the day before had come a line from John Maxwell saying not to hurry back. "Take another month, boy, and see all there is to see while you've got the chance. Simeon Bartlett is taking excellent care of your family, and I know that good wife of yours really wants you to have a taste of freedom. I wonder, Nick, if freedom is all it's cracked up to be! You can tell me about it when you come back!"

Nick wondered, too. Although he had enjoyed almost every minute of the time, he had, all the way along, missed Gay's companionship. The sight of each new beauty brought the wish that she were there to share it. He wanted her comments on all he saw. He missed her understanding silences. For if a young marriage proves the right marriage, there is none so happy, perhaps because there is less adjusting to go through with. Youth understands its kind—has fewer habits to overcome—fewer prejudices.

Nick was hardly conscious of his surroundings that morning. He was thinking that in Bakersville it was spring. Gay's last letter had told of pussy willows, and venturesome robins. The snow was gone. There had been a tremendous thaw and the river road was flooded in low places. It had been exciting. The bridge at Lower Falls was threatened for a day; and Uncle Sim had hired Sam Hilton to take them in his car to "see the sights." The boys were tremendously worked up, and begged constantly to get into the bath tub and "play flood."

Nick felt a twinge of keen regret that he had not been there to share in the excitement. "I believe I'm as much of a kid as Sonny," he mused quietly. "I have a sneaking love for floods, and circuses, and fies. Freedom! I'll tell Mr. Maxwell's it's not everything. I'd give it up this minute for a sight of Gay and the kids. I believe I'm homesick. I know I am. I don't feel a bit like conquering the universe!"

He laughed softly, visioning the Nick of five years before.

"What a kid I was—and what a dead game sport Gay was to start out with her stuff in a handkerchief like a regular tramp. And the years since—never a complaint when there was no wherewithal for new clothes—not a regret when little Nick followed so close on Sonny's heels. Oh, I know how some women would have cut up! Flora Symmes made Johnny feel like a criminal when that second kid of theirs was coming—and then loved it to pieces after it arrived! Well—I'm for home. I'll wind up this business and take the first boat back. I may be an idiot not to see more, but—"

Nick's reverie was interrupted by the arrival of an automobile, from which stepped a lady in a gown of familiar blueness. He arose dazedly, his thoughts jerked back to Jamaica and the present. When the lady turned he was at her side.

"Welcome to our city!" he said, smiling.

Angela stared.

"Am I a wizard? I was just wishing you'd appear. In fact, it was you I came to see. I hope you appreciate the honor."

His bow of exaggerated gallantry brought appreciative grins from the bell boys who were looking on.

"Going to stop long?"

"Not long." She threw him a sweet glance from her lovely eyes. "I've a scheme. I'll tell you at dinner. Just now I must have a bath. That awful railroad! Why didn't someone warn me what it was, so I could have come by auto?"

Nick laughed, went inside, registered for her, and demanded that she have a room facing the water. Angela was one of those people who always do get rooms on the ocean side. Later, when she came down to join him, she wore a simple white gown that made her look like a little girl. Watching her descend the staircase, Nick remembered that Gal had said she was

"all of thirty," and inwardly scoffed at the idea.

"Is your work over?"

They were dining on the veranda, and a breeze from the water stirred a curl against Angela's soft cheek. Nick watched it a moment, fascinated, then answered: "Almost. Another week or ten days will see it through."

"And then?"

"Home," said Nick; yet as he spoke he glanced regretfully at a glimpse of water between palms.

Angela saw the glance.

"So soon? Isn't it foolish not to see more now that you're here?"

It was foolish. Nick told himself that he had known it was foolish even when he made his resolve an hour earlier.

"Perhaps," he answered. "But I ought to get back. This is a business trip on my part, you understand."

"But they'd let you stay, wouldn't they? In another month you could learn so much about the island. Or you could run down to Panama—through the canal to Ancon, or—"

"Don't!" begged Nick, as if thrusting aside temptation. Her words had brought up the old magic. It would be wonderful to see those things. Yet—

"You could stay longer, couldn't you?"

He came back to earth at the question.

"Why, of course. It's merely a matter of conscience. I feel that I mustn't impose on Mr. Maxwell just because he's good enough to let me stay. And besides, I've a family to consider."

"But surely Mrs. Hastings wouldn't begrudge you this wonderful opportunity!"

"I should say not! Perhaps that's the very reason I feel that I should get back to her! That sounds enigmatic, but it's the truth. However, it would do no harm for me to take an extra week. What ought I to see most?"

Angela leaned forward. There was a gleam of victory in her eyes which Nick did not see because she had discreetly lowered them. When she looked up it was gone, and only their innocence remained.

"I've had you in mind a lot lately, Nick," she said. "I know you're not likely to take this trip again, and I want you to make the most of it. You remember my friends the Myers whom you met at Bakersville? They're about to start on a cruise in their gasoline yacht. They'll go into places the big liners don't touch, and see unusual things. They've asked me to join them, and—and bring a friend along. I wonder if you'd care to be that friend?"

The ADVENTURES of CAPTAIN JIMMY and his Dog SCOTTIE

WHAT CAME BEFORE? Captain Jimmy and Scottie are flying over China. They are lost in the darkness between the lines of two fighting armies, with men from both sides in their plane. Suddenly one of the Chinese attacks Captain Jimmy.

For a moment I was paralyzed. My fierce attacker raised his weapon to strike. Then before I could move, a thin, spare form hurled itself at my assailant, careless of the dangerous knife point. It was one of the three men we had rescued from the tree on the day before. I held my breath, amazed that the timid, shrinking Chinese should display such nerve. Springing to help him, I hit the big fellow on the chin with all my strength.

By this time the plane was in a spin, and we were so near the ground that there was no way but to land. I had lost all sense of direction for the moment, and had no way of telling whether we were over enemy territory or not.

Scarcely had the wheels stopped rolling before an excited Chinese sentry showed up and challenged us.

"Ask him where we are?" I directed the interpreter.

"Him say much bad Chinese boy—him belong enemy!"

"Tell him I belong to enemy, too," I said.

"He say, you crazy—you make much noise—wake Colonel—getee velly mad—shoootee bang—all done."

By which I gathered we were in the enemy camp, that the Colonel would hear the plane, get mad at being disturbed, and have us shot. Not a very encouraging prospect.

Then a Chinese sergeant and a squad of soldiers appeared out of the inky darkness. When he saw the three deserters from his camp he raised a terrible rumpus. First he accused us of stealing his men, then, after a long pow-wow with the three, they evidently convinced him that they had been taken prisoners, and we had helped them to escape. Anyway he took them back—and probably they were far better off in their own army!

than among the enemy. So much for the three captives, but our own position was extremely dangerous. Something had to be done quickly, or soon we would all be marched to headquarters.

"Tell the sergeant that I brought this plane to give General Ming," I said. "Tell him to march two soldiers ahead and keep the road clear."

When I turned the searchlight on and taxied along the road behind the two soldiers. After a few minutes the road straightened out for a stretch of a quarter of a mile or so. Now was our chance! In an instant I snapped off the searchlight and opened the throttle full. With a roar the plane fairly leaped forward and rushed down the road on the two soldiers who fled in panic.

Bang—Bang—went the rifles of the soldiers who followed us, and a few bullets ripped through the wings; but we were gathering speed rapidly. A moment more and we were in the air, free as a bird.

Gas was running low, however, so we headed back for our own lines, with the help of our searchlight we picked out a railway line. Spiralling down, we bumped to a stop on the rough ground and scrambled out. While the unknown Chinaman who had tried to knife me followed cautiously.

Guess who it was. The last person I ever expected to see—Colonel Tien of General Lu's Army. A fine chap—that Colonel Tien. Three times I had to knock him out to make him behave.

Then he explained that he thought I was trying to take him over to the enemy camp. In that case I could understand why he was so desperate for it would have gone hard with Colonel Tien to be caught by the enemy.

Far to the north of us a locomotive whistled. A little clump of bushes grew beside the railway track, and toward these we pushed and tugged our plane, to get it out of sight. Another few minutes more and a freight train rounded the curve stopping not over two hundred yards from our hiding place.

Thank God, the Christianity of today is coming nearer to the world's need. Live to help that on. Thank God, men know better by a hair's breadth what religion is, what God is, who Christ is, where Christ is. Who is Christ? Flexible Wood For Walls

Can Be Applied As Easily As Paper and Much Cheaper

Planning to redecorate a room? How would you like wood panelling as a change from wallpaper or painted walls? If you would, don't forsake your trusty paper hanger. He can hang the wood.

A new type of wood has been introduced on the market. It is a thin sheet of choice and genuine cabinet wood mounted on fabric, which is as flexible and practical as canvas.

In pine, mahogany or walnut, or in special grained grades, the new wood product can be installed over any surface, metal, plaster or tile. Its possibilities plainly are multifold. The producers assure us that two coats of shellac and wax will give it a finish to rival the finest of cabinet woods and add the interesting note that the whole job can be accomplished at one-tenth the cost of the old-fashioned wood work.

And the paper hanger can go hang—the wood.

An Unknown Quantity

Greatness Of Canada Is Hardly Grasped By Most Canadians

It took 5,000 men under General Wolfe to capture what was then Canada in 1759.

It will take 15,000 men and women in 1931 to take the census of what is now the Dominion of Canada.

In 1759 Canada's greatness was an unknown quantity to Canadians.

In 1931, Canada's greatness is still an unknown quantity to most Canadians. They do not grasp the enormous wealth they have. They do not know how to get the best markets for the tremendous produce of Canada. They do not even know how many people Canada has.

The Dominion census this year will correct that. It will find how many people there are, what they do, what they own, and it will be the basis for a regular encyclopedia of Canadian affairs.

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drugstore; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

TAKING THE CENSUS

Commencing on June 1st, the census takers will be out all over the Dominion gathering information on many subjects, besides the actual counting of the people of the Dominion of Canada. This year besides the usual questions asked and determined will be the number of unemployed and the reasons why they are not, or have not been working during the past year.

Such a census on the unemployment ought to be of great benefit to the Dominion Government in settling the unemployment question. They will have the reasons for the unemployment and this will give a committee of the Government something to work on in the way of relieving the situation and giving a remedy for same.

The arrangements for the taking of the census have been going on for some time and this year they went forward without any opposition, such as was aroused by the first proposal to institute a census in Great Britain.
When, in 1753 a bill was introduced into Parliament "for taking and registering an account of the total number of people" there was a tremendous outcry, chiefly on religious grounds with much quoting of the Scripture to prove such a proceeding unlawful in the sight of Heaven. Now the people realize that this census taking is a necessary part of the Government's work and the expense incurred is money well spent in ascertaining the statistics of the Dominion.

VALUE OF KEEPING MOVING

Neither a business nor an individual can get on without keeping moving.
Standing still brings stagnation. When you get in to the bath tub you make the water move pretty lively when you want the best results. The days are over when one could sit still and wait for business to show up. Business today doesn't show up; it has to be turned up. That is why advertising now plays so vital a part in merchandising. Advertising goes out, so to speak and coaxes men and women to become customers. One reason so many older concerns are finding themselves left behind is that they have ceased to go out vigorously after new business. Past success usually is dangerous since it is conducive to laziness, to slowing up, to waiting for orders to come in. The individual may be likened to water, in that, while stagnant, nothing worth while can be accomplished, whereas water directed into effective channels can turn dynamos sufficient to light a whole city.

First take pains to make sure you are headed right; then aim to go full steam ahead.

PAT BURNS TO RECEIVE A GIGANTIC BIRTHDAY CAKE

A huge cake weighing 3,000 pounds and 7 feet 6 inches in height has been made for the Calgary exhibition and stamped this year and presented to Pat Burns, pioneer rancher and cattleman on the occasion of his 75th birthday on July 6th.

The cake, which will be surmounted by 75 candles, is to be cut into 23,000 pieces and distributed to visitors at the stampede on the opening day of the fair. The ingredients consist of 285 lbs. of sugar, 304 lbs. of butter, 380 lbs. of flour, 12 lbs. of spices, 290
lbs. of currants, 1,150 lbs. of raisins, 190 lbs. of mixed peel, 190 lbs. of cherries, 80 lbs. of almonds, 80 lbs. of walnuts, 120 lbs. of dates, 60 lbs. of candied pineapple, 2½ lbs. of salt, and 380 dozen eggs. For the icing there will be 160 lbs. of icing sugar, the whites of 340 eggs, 300 sugar roses, 200 sugar lilies, three gross of leaves.

The cake is made in three sections each a square, placed in tiers one on the other.

I have often wondered what hap-

When a man wants to be an authfamiliar with the subject.

I wonder if the 394 pounds of butter put in Pat Burns' huge birthday cake, were manufactured by Burns and Company, or were they bought from the country merchant at eight cents per pound.

The person that minds his own business is the man that becomes pros-

Canada and World Disarmament

During this present period of world-wide business depression some people, good people too, are heard to thoughtlessly remark that the only way out will be another great war; that such a struggle will be the ultimate outcome of the world's existing difficulties. Such a statement should be the last to pass the lips of any person. Another war, instead of being a cure, would be the final world catastrophe.

Many contributing causes there may be to the economic trials of today, but the main source of all the trouble is to be found in the Great War, 1914-1918. That titanic struggle laid the foundations for what has since taken place. In fact, all students of history fully realize that our present experiences are but a repetition of those which followed the Napoleonic wars. Another great war would have exactly the same results, only worse, because modern world conditions only serve to intensify and prolong such disturbances when they do occur.

Instead, therefore, of even thinking "war," the peoples of all nations should think and talk of nothing but permanent peace, and direct all their energies to the consummation of that ideal.

What is the great financial burden resting on the shoulders of the Canadian people today? It is the debt created by the Great War. The public debt of Canada created in the upbuilding of this Dominion from before the time of Confederation down to 1914 calls for annual interest payments of only $12,893,000, or only 3 1/2 per cent. of our national expenditures, and approximately $1.30 per head of our population. On the other hand, interest charges on the public debt created since 1914 amount to $108,857,000, or 27 per cent of our annual expenditures, and more than $10.00 per head of population in each and every year.

But this is not all of the war burden. In addition to this 27 per cent interest on the war debt, Canadians are required to devote another 12.40 per cent of all expenditures for services arising out of the war, such as pensions, after care of soldiers, etc. That is, out of every $100 expended by the Government of Canada each year, $39.42 is directly attributable to the Great War. This is the burden which ties the hands and cripples the efforts of our national government.

Of every $100 expended by the United States $60.00 is spent because of war, past, present and future. The war expenditures of Great Britain are in like proportion, or possibly even heavier.

In a recent speech before the International Chamber of Commerce, meeting in Washington, President Hoover declared that the present world depression is largely due to "the destruction of life and property, the great tax burdens, and the social and political instability which resulted from the Great War," and he declared that one major accomplishment which international co-operation could effect in reducing tax burdens, removing a primary cause of unrest, and establishing greater confidence for the long future, was "the limitation and reduction of armaments." President Hoover proceeded to back up his assertion with these startling facts and figures:

"The world expenditure on all arms is now nearly five billions of dollars yearly, an increase of about 70 per cent over that previous to the Great War. We stand today with nearly 5,500,000 men actively under arms and 20,000,000 more in reserve. These vast forces, greatly exceeding those of the pre-war period, still are to be demobilized, even though twelve years have passed since the Armistice was signed, because of fear and of inability of nations to co-operate in mutual reductions. Yet we are all signatories to the Kellogg-Briand Pact, by which we have renounced war as an instrument of national policy, and agreed to settle all controversies by pacific means."

Nevertheless, in the face of such a declaration from President Hoover, and also in the face of a huge national deficit of over $800,000,000 which is enforcing economies in practically every department of government, the United States budget for 1932 provides for an increase of $26,000,000 in prospective outlays on military-naval expenditures.

Canada, too, is a signatory to the Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact, and as such this Dominion is steadily reducing its expenditures for defence purposes; we have no offensive services. Expenditures for National Defence by Canada are the smallest of any country in the world having anything like the same population or degree of wealth. They total only 5.66 per cent of our annual expenditures; in other words, about two dollars per head of our population.

While, therefore, this Dominion is not at all blameworthy for the present state of world armament, the Canadian people should be staunch supporters of further disarmament everywhere as a step towards permanent peace. As a people we cannot remain indifferent to the attitudes of other nations, and unless a general reduction in armaments takes place another world tragedy will be enacted, and into it we may again be drawn as active participants, and in any event cannot escape its disastrous effects.

Smothering and Fainting Spells Everything Would Turn Black

Mrs. Andrew Black, Harcourt, N.B., writes: "I had been troubled with smothering and fainting spells and everything in front of me would turn black, and I would fall down in a faint and be unconscious for several minutes. I did not know what to do, until one day I was reading where Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills had helped so many people and decided I would give them a trial. I used four boxes and found they help me wonderfully."

Week End Cruises

Cunard Line Will Inaugurate Week-End Cruises From New York To Nova Scotia

In an effort to further increase the popularity of Nova Scotia as a tourist country among Americans the Cunard Line announces that their now famous "Week-end Cruises" scheduled for the months of July, August and September, will include a call at a Nova Scotian port.

The statement that was issued by Arthur Randles, general passenger traffic manager of the Cunard Line in Canada, also pointed out the fact that not only will the "Week-end Cruises" call there, but those of the special summer cruises under the auspices of the National Tours, will also make Halifax a port of call. The co-operation of the Nova Scotian authorities has been secured and every effort will be made to see that passengers on these cruises are given as much time ashore as possible to view the many attractions which the maritime provinces have to offer.

"This will be the first time," said Mr. Randles, "that three giant express liners of the size of the 'Berengaria,' 'Aquitania,' and 'Mauretania,' have called at Halifax, except that the 'Aquitania' and 'Mauretania' occasionally visited the ancient port during the war. The first sailing of the 'Week-end Cruises' to call at a Nova Scotia port will be 'Aquitania,' July 3rd, from New York. These cruises will be carried on throughout the summer until the last sailing of the 'Mauretania' leaving New York on September 18th, while the National Tours cruises will commence on July 27th with the 'Transylvania' and finish with the sailing from New York on August 31st of the 'Cameronia.'"

Until July there are scheduled four "Week-end Cruises" from New York, the first leaving New York on May 2nd in the 'Aquitania,' calling at Bermuda. The second cruise will be that of the 'Mauretania,' leaving New York on May 15th, calling at Nassau in the Bahama Islands. The third cruise is that of the 'Berengaria,' leaving New York on May 29th and calling at Bermuda, to be followed by a cruise of the 'Mauretania,' on June 5th to Nassau. The "Week-end Cruises" to Nova Scotia will then follow. The cruise of the 'Berengaria' is also unique in the fact that it is the largest liner ever to visit Bermuda.

"These week-end cruises, the first of which have proven so popular, are drawing capacity bookings. On board the attractions include dances, moving pictures, lectures, deck sports, and every type of ship entertainment and the extremely low rates available make them very attractive.

"The reason for these cruises is to familiarize the vast number of people on this side of the Atlantic who have never had the pleasure of sailing in an ocean liner, and to give them the opportunity of making a trip on one of the 'Big Three' with little or no time away from their business.

The calls at Nassau and Bermuda allow passengers to do some sight-seeing or enjoy the local attractions such as trips in the glass-bottomed boats at Paradise Beach, and sea bathing.

Officials of the Cunard Line expect that the call at the Nova Scotia port at the best time of the year will enhance the popularity of these week-end cruises.

Elgar's Rousing March Clears Brooklyn Store At Closing Time

You may not have realized it, but one of the matters to which department-store executives have devoted a great deal of thought is how to get rid of their customers at closing time without actually pushing or shoving them out. A gentleman who wandered late one afternoon into Abraham & Straus', in Brooklyn, New York, reports a neat way they have of doing it there. He saw it work. At five-thirty a gong rang: framed immediately from loudspeakers scattered along the walls issued the rousing strains of Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance." Ladies lingering over bargains straightened, seized their parcels, and in no time were swinging briskly along toward the exits. The floorwalker he questioned, was enthusiastic about the idea, said it was the best they'd ever had for the purpose, and, incidentally, paid a high tribute to Elgar. His march, the floorwalker said, cleared the store faster than anything else they had been able to find by extensive experiments.

Plans Round Trip Flight Over Ocean

Commander MacMillan and Pilot Will Attempt Hop In June

In the role of trans-Atlantic flyer whose goal is the first round trip crossing of the North Atlantic by airplane, Commander Donald B. MacMillan, veteran explorer of the Arctic, will attempt to fly back and forth between Boston and London this summer.

A swift monoplane, a Lockheed-Vega, the same design of ship in which many trans-continental speed records have been set, will be used. A Los Angeles flyer, Charles F. Rocheville, will pilot the ship. The take-off is set for June 21.

It is one of the most important of our structural materials. Materials suitable for the manufacture of Portland cement occur in all but one of the provinces of Canada.

World's Grain Exhibition

Spain Making Arrangements To Participate In Conference

Though Spain is very busy just now reorganizing its national administration, the importance of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held at Regina, July 25 to August 26, 1932, has not been lost sight of.

A few days ago the headquarters' office of the Exhibition and Conference was advised by the General Director of Agriculture of the Spanish Ministry of National Economy that a special committee of cereal agriculture had been appointed to devote itself to the definite organization of participation by Spain in the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference.

Spain has a particular interest in the forthcoming world-wide grain exhibition and conference in that it is a preponderantly agricultural country. Its productive area is calculated at 114,000,000 acres of which, last year, nearly 12,000,000 acres were sown to wheat, 5,000,000 acres to barley, 2,000,000 acres to oats and 1,500,000 to rye.

Seventeen countries have now officially accepted the invitation to be represented at the Exhibition and Conference, namely: Italy, Peru, Yugoslavia, Guatemala, New Zealand, Czechoslovakia, the Netherlands, Belgium, Poland, Siam, India, Portugal, Switzerland, Estonia, the Philippines, the Argentina and Spain.

APPROVAL IS GIVEN TO EMPIRE WHEAT QUOTAS

London, England.—The Labor Government has approved the general principle of a quota for Empire wheat. This was the statement of Lord Parmoor, president of the council in the Labor cabinet, in the House of Lords. The quota would assure the wheat-growing Dominions a certain proportion of the British market.

Lord Parmoor believes the project is quite possible.

"The difficulty is one of detail which cannot be disposed of until after the forthcoming conference at Ottawa. The Dominions do not think it is impossible and neither does the government. Whether the Dominions can formulate a scheme which will be satisfactory, only time will tell," he declared.

Lord Parmoor did not believe a quota on wheat grown in Britain could be of any benefit to the farming industry, since it could not be used without adding to the burdens of the taxpayers.

The decision of the government was not unanimously endorsed by the Lords. The Labor peer, Lord Arnold, made a slashing attack on the proposal. "It is a crude and terribly unsound proposal," he stated. A quota of even 55 per cent. of the Dominions' wheat would not only be practically no increase in the recent British import of Dominion wheat, but would only represent one-fifth of the joint Canadian-Australian surplus, in the current year of 512,000,000 bushels."

It was obvious he said, the economic committee of the Imperial Conference had grave misgivings as to the effect of a quota on prices. Far from furthering Imperial unity it would become a discordant Imperial factor and also invite retaliation by other countries like the Argentine.

Lord Arnold made passing reference to Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett's offer to the Imperial Conference and the speech of Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Dominion secretary, the language of which, he said, "would shock this House."

Rt. Rev. Bertram Pollock, Bishop of Norwich, challenging Lord Arnold's assertions from beginning to end, said if any kind of Empire preference was found to be good, then some further step could be taken. "We are not necessarily committed to a long series of further steps," he declared.

Lord Parmoor has failed to follow the reasoning that a quota meant a duty on foodstuffs or raw materials. That was never part of the government's policy and the various Dominions had made it clear they did not desire it. It was not a question of price, but of quantities, and he was unable to see why a quota should prove impracticable.

On the other hand, it was useless for home farmers to have a quota without a guarantee price, which would mean raising the price of wheat from 75 cents a bushel to $1.50 per bushel. The real treatment for the farming industry in the Old Country was an adaptation to new economic conditions, he declared.

Detect Nationalistic Spirit

British Trade Mission Finds Desire In Canada To Foster Domestic Trade

London, England.—Members of the Trade Mission which visited Canada and the United States in the interests of the Scottish woollen industry told newspapermen that they had been struck by the "intensely nationalistic feeling" in Canada.

In Canada there was a desire to foster Canadian secondary industries at all costs, coupled with a desire to buy at home, the manufacturers said. This feeling did not exist in the United States, they said. It was essential that Scottish manufacturers should have better publicity and a better selling organization in both countries the members of the mission stated.

Riots In Spain

Government Orders Confiscation Of Private Property Of Alfonso

Madrid, Spain.—Following further anti-clerical riots in Spain, in spite of the strict watch of soldiery, the government has decreed the confiscation of the private property of King Alfonso, pending an investigation and commanded provincial governors to use the strictest measures to restore order.

Meanwhile Cardinal Primate Segura, a Catholic archbishop of Toledo whose pastoral letter created a stir over a week ago, had crossed the Spanish border and was on his way through France, presumably on a journey to Rome.

Several more churches and Catholic religious houses were burned and sacked in provincial cities, in spite of the fact that martial law had been declared in most of the larger centres.

A nation-wide check-up of police forces, civil guards and provincial governors was ordered by the cabinet. The action resulted from the government's belief that some of these officials have not been stern enough in dealing with the situation.

Twenty-nine chiefs of police or their lieutenants, several officers of the civil guards and one secretary of a provincial government were discharged for alleged incompetency.

It was reported also that some provincial governors were to be displaced.

Cardinal Segura, accompanied by his brother, Canon of the Toledo Cathedral, drove in an automobile to the French border at Hendaye, France, and continued from there to Toulouse. It was supposed they were bound for Rome.

Place Idle On Land

Plan Proposed To Establish Jobless On Manitoba Farms

Winnipeg, Man.—A scheme to establish jobless on farms has been placed before the Manitoba Government and the city fathers of Winnipeg. J. G. Alexander and J. P. Siemens, of Winnipeg, are authors of the scheme. They urge that huge sums spent on unemployment relief be used to establish families on the land.

Land suitable for farming operations is available at $1.00 to $1.50 per acre, the men claim. Their plan would give permanent instead of temporary relief and enable the jobless to produce their own food and in time become taxpayers, the two men state. It is stated that more than 1,100 families have announced their desire to become farmers if the money spent on relief can be used to aid them.

The proposed plan would permit families to occupy farms owned by the government until they can return the amount of money advanced, then they will receive title to the land.

Made In West Campaign

Develop Markets For Goods Manufactured In Western Canada

Winnipeg, Man.—Western Canadian manufacturers gathered in conference here and decided to commence a campaign to sell "Made-in-the-West" goods to the prairie folk. A plan was formulated to develop markets for articles manufactured in the Canadian West.

A distinctive identification mark or label placed on all goods was favored by the conferees. The mark would show that the articles were produced by prairie labor. Manufacturers and retailers will co-operate closely in furthering the "Made-in-the-West" campaign.

Carry On Thriving Trade

Ottawa, Ont.—When the Islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon were ceded to France after the conquest of Canada by the British, it was little dreamed the time would come when they would rank ninth among the nations of the world in total trade with the Dominion. Consisting almost entirely of liquor, Canada in the last fiscal year sold the two islands a total of $11,004,479, out-ranking Australia, Ireland, Argentina, Brazil, China, Mexico, Sweden and Denmark.

Estimated Wheat Acreage

Government Figures Based On Farmers' Plans May 1

Ottawa, Ont.—The estimated acreage of spring wheat in all Canada for this season is 22,152,300, as compared with 24,082,900 last year. This estimate was announced by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics in a crop report issued May 12. This means that 1,930,000 acres less will be under wheat during 1931 than was the case in 1930.

In Alberta the acreage is 89 per cent. of last year; in Saskatchewan, 92 per cent.; in Manitoba, 98 per cent.; in Ontario, 99 per cent.; Quebec, 100 per cent.; New Brunswick, 95 per cent.; in Nova Scotia, 98 per cent.; British Columbia, 102 per cent.; Prince Edward Island, 101 per cent. The acreage for all Canada for spring wheat is 92 per cent. as compared with 100 last year, a decrease of eight per cent.

The report explains that the figures are to be regarded only as an indication of the seeding plans of farmers on May 1. The actual acreage sown may be changed by later consideration, particularly by soil and weather conditions and by price movement.

For Armament Reduction

Canadian Womanhood and Organized Labor Support League

Ottawa, Ont.—Canadian womanhood and organized labor strongly support the League of Nations and its aims, it was reported at the ninth annual meeting here of the League of Nations Society in Canada. It was made known that a huge petition will be presented on behalf of the women of the Dominion at next year's meeting of the Naval Disarmament Conference, urging reduction of the manufacture of instruments for warfare.

Tom Moore, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress and its representative on the society's executive, declared before the gathering far more was being spent in all countries on armaments than on social effort.

"It is necessary that we find some means by which money may be devoted to the betterment of the people instead of upon means of destruction," he added.

A number of other speakers reported the organizations which they represented supported the work of the League of Nations. Among these were Mrs. C. Field Robertson, of the Federated Women's Institute embracing 80,000 Canadian women; Mrs. J. A. Wilson, president of the National Council of Women, and Miss Agnes MacPhail, M.P., who reported for the United Farmers of Ontario.

Senator Urges Joint Holiday

Would Have Remembrance Day and Thanksgiving Celebrated Together

Ottawa, Ont.—Joint celebration of Remembrance Day and Thanksgiving will be the aim of a motion which will be introduced in the Senate by Hon. John Stanfield. When the Senate was considering a bill which passed the House of Commons, fixing Remembrance Day on November 11, Senator Stanfield gave notice of his suggested amendment. The bill was referred to a committee, where the proposed change will be considered.

The bill, as it passed the lower House, changed the name of Armistice Day to Remembrance Day and fixed it permanently on November 11. At the present time, it is celebrated on the Monday of the week in which November 11 falls.

Education In Penitentiaries

Ottawa, Ont.—Greater opportunity for educational expansion should be given inmates of Canada's penitentiaries, believes Miss Agnes MacPhail, lone woman member of the House of Commons, who addressed an Ottawa service club. The increase in penitentiary inmates was attributed by Miss MacPhail to the prevalent depression and unfavorable home conditions.

IS OPPOSED TO ANY CHANGE IN BANKING SYSTEM

Ottawa, Ont.—The banking system of Canada is adequate to the needs of this country and no reason exists for a change. This was the opinion expressed in the House of Commons by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, prime minister and acting minister of finance.

Mr. Bennett asserted that the Canadian system embraced those great basic requirements which are essential to its success. It provided the people with a safe depository for the money which they desired to save, and it furnished to those people requiring money adequate facilities for borrowing.

Mr. Bennett emphasized that complicated discussion which sometimes took place in respect to banks and their place in the community, must always resolve itself into a simple, single inquiry. "Has the bank, through its management, had due regard in lending money to the fact that it may be called upon to repay that money to the source from which it was borrowed?"

"It may well be," Mr. Bennett declared, "that the time will come in this country when it is deemed desirable to expand our system as it now exists. I am not saying it will not. I am one of those who believe that you cannot today with respect to financial operations, say with certainty what it may be desirable to do tomorrow—using the word tomorrow, not in its literal sense but in relation to time as we employ the term in financial operations."

Discussion arose on a motion of G. G. Coote, U.F.A. member for MacLeod, Alta., asking the House to declare that "there should be established in Canada a nationally-owned central bank." At some length Mr. Coote advocated the establishment of such a bank, declaring that it could take over many of the duties now discharged by the department of finance, administration of the Finance Act, probably the issuance of Dominion notes and supervision of the Post Office Savings Bank. He expressed the view that intelligence and effective control of credit in Canada could best be obtained through some such central institution.

Interview By Television

Mrs. Philip Snowden Gives Interview Through New Medium

London, England.—While Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, was confined to bed for a few days under doctor's orders, the Daily Herald quoted Mrs. Snowden in what it described as "the first interview by television in history."

Both the interviewer and Mrs. Snowden were visible as well as audible to each other, one in the Herald's office and the other at 11 Downing Street. Asked about the chancellor's health, Mrs. Snowden told the reporter: "He has had rather a setback this week, I'm afraid. But I do not think it is serious. However, it has temporarily deprived him of the use of his legs to some extent."

Mr. Snowden virtually rose from a sick bed a short time ago to place the budget before the House of Commons. His physicians today told him to return to bed.

Rival Aces Meet

Wing Commander Bishop Shakes Hands With German Flyer

Montreal.—Canada's foremost war ace, credited with more aerial victories than all other allied pilots, met Major Hugo Koenig, ex-commanding officer of Baron Von Richthofen's Flying Circus recently. Wing Commander William Avery Bishop, V.C., shook hands with the German flyer, and then the two sat down and conjured up scenes over the Arras sector of the front away back in 1917. Major Koenig said that Bishop was as highly respected as Richthofen was by the Germans at home.
